gone into effect. The masks were assigned at birth to be worn until death. They were a bland white, with no expression except the fixed smile. People could no longer convey their feelings through facial expressions. To frown, to cry, to grim or smile with joy was impossible; the mask hid any of these special, unique expressions. It covered up the human weakness of tears or a face contorted in pain. No one was any more attractive than the other; equality was finally being attained, but no one left any special impression on another, they all were so much alike.'

The mask may never be issued, but still we make our own. The fixed, phony smile and greetings that have just been conditioned into us, that have no meaning behind them; they are only formalities. The 1973 Bitterroot's theme is expressions and impressions. Through out the book are various pictures centering on the facial expressions of Sentinel's students and faculty. Their feelings are so effectively conveyed to us through just one look. In addition, there are written impressions by students and faculty. What is being felt and shown in words and the face is important and memorable to the school year.
Therefore, we have tried to show the joys, pains and sorrows experienced through the 1973 school year in the expression pictures and written feelings of Sentinel's people.

The End

Say what you will, I cannot stay here any longer.—
True, I am but a wanderer, a rover on earth!—
What am I to do here?—

Athletics

School is the place where athletics begin, in the school's name we lose, but more often we win.
Practice makes perfect, at least that's what they say,
so it's perfection you strive toward, day after day.
Opportunity knocking—have you heard it before?
Sports can be the key that unlocks the door.
Respect is essential, it helps us to grow, respect for oneself, as well as the foe.
Teams are individuals bound by one goal, alone there is nothing, united they are whole.
Spirit is the trait shared by both young and old,
when together they cheer for the purple and gold.

Girls Cross Country

Although this year's girl's cross country team did not win any of its meets, its record was one of the most successful in the history of girls cross country at Sentinel. The 1972 team was composed of one junior, four sophomores and five freshmen, making the prospect of future winning seasons very probable. One of the bright spots on the team was Susie Deden, a sophomore, who finished in the top ten in almost every meet. Through her leadership, the team placed a respectable sixth at the state meet.

Boys Cross Country

For Coach Mike Johnson and his team, the 1972 cross country season was extremely gratifying. At the start of the year Mr. Johnson hoped the Sentinel runners could finish fifth in the state meet. But because of a season of hard work and determination, the team finished a surprising third in the state finals at Helena on October 28. The top runners on the squad were seniors Jim Walker, who showed fine leadership as team captain, John Wallis and Tim Ihey. Three sophomores and one junior, none of whom had experienced any varsity competition before, rounded out the 1972 team. In addition to the fine finish at state, the season's highlights include the contributions of the sophomore runners, especially that of Keith Messmer.

Boys Track

An exhausted Larry Springer dramatizes the thrill of victory.

Track and field includes a series of competitive events that make up one of the oldest of all sports. They comprise running for speed, jumping for height or distance, and throwing for distance, activities vital to ancient man for survival. The sprinters who dash headlong provide the close finishes. The hurdlers, combining speed and grace, add precision and beauty to the sport. The milers, beginning with easy strides, furnish lung-bursting, heart-pounding final efforts as they strain to hit the tape. The field events, too, high and broad jumps, javelin and pole vault and shot-put, add to the spectacle. These events make up the most universal and most important sport internationally. Yet it is conducted almost exclusively on an amateur basis. So it is at Sentinel, where track is an important part of the spring school season. Students often see the track members jogging about in the warm sunlight on a spring afternoon, as Coach George Scott puts his team through after school workouts. The individuals on the team work hard, seldomly receiving their just recognition, to build their physical abilities to the peak needed to win.

Flopper Bryan Flraig displays excellent style as he clears the bar.

Team

Coach Gene "Dimples" Leonard hugs his players after the Hellgate game.

Like every other high school body in the land last fall, Sentinel fans coveted a state football championship. But with only ten returning lettermen, the Spartans' chances of bringing home the Montana crown appeared doubtful. Yet in Sentinel's first home game against Billings Senior on September 22, a pattern formed that was to lead Sentinel to its best football record in the school's history, 10-1. Bryan Flraig, a senior end, caught a touchdown pass from junior quarterback Tim Kerr, and the duo began a romp that would end when between them the two had set five AA passing and receiving records. Throughout the season Kerr showed gutsy spirit when on third down and long yardage he would sling the ball to Flraig. And Bryan, with his height, speed and invaluable hands, would grab the ball, outmaneuver his defenders and run for a touchdown or first down yardage. During the first half of the season the pair, both first team members of the Montana Coaches Association Class AA All-State Football Team, kept their team winning when the Spartans were suffering with a weak running attack. Coach Gene Leonard, the Montana high school coach of the year, alternated his offensive runners until midway through the season when he established a backfield with Dirk Visser at halfback and Bill Sheppard at fullback. With their talented efforts, the Sentinel crew now had an unrivaled varied offense in the state.

Defensively the Spartans, with strong points Bob Vogel at tackle, Stan Zachariasen at linebacker and Steve Yurich at defensive back, all first team selections of the Montana Coaches Association Class AA All-State Football Team, more than adequately battled their opponents, recovering 20 fumbles and grabbing 22 interceptions. Together with the offense they had compiled a record of 6-0 heading into the game with the 1971 football champions, the Great Falls Bisons. This game was prematurely billed as the 1972 championship game with the Spartans, the finesse team of the year, against the Bison, the power team of the season. The size and strength of the Bison proved to be too much for the Spartans to best, and Sentinel lost the game 30-15.

Many thought the Spartans chances for a state title in football had been destroyed. But the team beat their remaining opponents, including their cross town rivals the Hellgate Knights. In the game the Sentinel defense held the Knights scoreless and the Spartans running game was spectacular as Dirk Visser gained over 100 yards rushing. Ending their regular season with a 9-1 record, the Spartans waited and hoped to get another crack at the Bisons. The chance came when Butte Public, a team the Spartans had whipped 44-20 earlier in the season, beat Great Falls Public 17-15 in a night game. This set up the 1972 AA State Football Championship in Missoula on November 18. From the start of the game the superiority of the Kerr to Flraig pass against the Bison running game was clear. On the Spartans fifth play from scrimmage, Kerr fired a 32 yard scoring bomb to Flraig and the Sentinel Spartans were on their way to the school's first sole football championship (Sentinel shared th etitle in 1966 with Great Falls Public). Kerr and Flraig connected for two more touchdowns and Sheppard ran for a fourth.

The much publicized running game of the Bisons never got started as the Spartan defensive unit held Great Falls to only 16 points. At the end of the game the score was 29-16 and a happy crowd of Sentinel fans raced onto the field to embrace their 1972 football champions

The Class AA Champions at State

The Sentinel Spartans again proved to be the masters of Montana high school basketball this year by winning the Class AA Championship for the second straight time. Returning with exceptional depth and experience, the Spartans formed an unparalleled team whose 25-1 season was topped off by a 76-63 win over the Hellgate Knights in the title game.

Individualism may not be the key to a successful athletic team, but it was the combination of individual efforts that made the Spartan team a winner. The Spartans ran an awesome fast-break that often found Bryan Flraig, Kirk Rocheleau and Ben DeMers feeding the ball to one another for a quick and seemingly easy two points. Yet it was more than their smoothness and cooperation on layups that made the Spartans winners. It was the great outside shooting of guards Kirk Rocheleau and Ben DeMers. It was the superior rebounding and turn around jump shooting of center Steve DeMers and forward Joe DeMarois. And almost always it was forward Bryan Flraig's ability to pull the team together when they faltered with brilliant assists and game assurance points. And perhaps more than any other quality that made the Spartans champions, was their bench strength. Coach Bob Luoma never had a set starting five and usually picked his first team from seven players. This periodically left Dan Mitchell and Mike Morris as reserves. Both fine players, they were able to relieve other starters without the Spartans losing any of their scoring punch. The Spartans also received strong late game performances from benchers Roger Nelson, Jeff Howard, Tim Morris, Mike Doerfler and Mark Weston.

But basketball is not all offense. Combining their individual talents, Coach Luoma molded his boys into an excellent defensive unit that held Kalispell to only 32 and 35 points in their two meetings with the Braves.

The Spartans only loss this season was to the Great Falls Bison, 69-61. This was the first game of the year the Spartans played without Ben DeMers who dislocated his hip in the Great Falls Russell game. Because of his injury, Ben missed the middle part of the season.

But the loss to Great Falls became meaningless to both the Spartan team and fans alike when seniors Dan Mitchell and Ben DeMers cut down the nets at the UM Field House after the championship game for the victorious Sentinel Spartans.

What comes to mind when wrestling is mentioned? Usually brute strength and the endurance to match. But in order for a wrestler and his team to win, they must also have a keen knowledge of the sport. But knowledge is not innate and at Sentinel this special wisdom used by the Spartan wrestlers is obtained from the teachings of Head Coach Jug Beck. And this year Jug did an exceptional job of making his message clear to his boys.

The Spartan grapplers completed their regular season with an 11-1 record, losing only to Kalispell in their first meeting with the Braves. But the squad never let down after this defeat and when the two teams met again a month later coach Jug Beck's boys beat Kalispell 27-22 in a close match. This was a crucial win for the team in their pursuit to bring the State Class AA Wrestling Championship back to Sentinel.

The Spartans overwhelmed the Knights this year sweeping the series from Hellgate with scores of 48-9 in their first meeting and 35-15 in the second.

This year's squad was strong in every weight class from 98-pound Pete Karr right on up through heavyweight Bruce Polette. With each man on the team overpowering his opponent, it is hard to single out an exceptional performer. But by both compiling undefeated seasons, John Mecham and Don Tripp set the standard of perfection for the entire team. John Mecham, a transfer from Seeley-Swan, added his own electricity to the Spartans cause by breaking the state record for most consecutive wins.

Doug Peterson exhibits a strength move on the parallel bars.

Gymnastics is unique in the field of sports because it is not only a grueling athletic event, but also a beautiful art form. Combining a distinct blend of physical beauty and athletic coordination and strength, a gymnastic competitor must display intense concentration and numerous skills when performing.

Through the fine direction of Coach Mike Johnson, Sentinel's boys' gymnastic team presented first-rate performances in their meets this year. Pete Nauditt, Sentinel's top all-around man, worked superb exercises throughout the season winning the parallel bars in the Big Ten meet. Nauditt was backed up by standout Mark Parks, who finished first in the high bar competition against Kalispell and Hellgate.

Helping to balance the team were Doug Peterson, a specialist in the floor exercise, Paul Shook, working the sidehorse, Martin Ludemann, excelling in the vault, and Denny Allen who regularly placed with his sidehorse and ring routines.

Melody Caluri performs her floor exercise.

A good all-around high school gymnast needs the grace of a ballerina, the physical strength of a long distance swimmer, the concentration of a chess player, and the versatility of a decathlon champion. It is hard to find a gymnast with these qualities, but not impossible. Sentinel's Misty Lehman is such a gymnast. Misty performed masterfully this season winning all-around championships in both the Helena and Missoula triangulants.

Though it may have seemed so at times this season, Misty was not a one-girl team. Her Coach Pam Kees did an excellent job of developing her girls' talent, including that of Kim Canaris, a fine balance beam performer.

Classes

Classes are . . .
Racing through the door three seconds after the bell rang.
Snoozing during the movie.
Remaining silent when the teacher asks you a question.
Waving your hand wildly when the teacher doesn't ask you a question.
Going to the dentist two or three times a week.
Squirming in your seat because you have an itch.
Scratching secretly.
Glancing at the clock every five minutes.
Trying to talk to your friends outside the door while under critical survey by the teacher.
Crossing your eyes so you can see the tip of your nose—for the lack of anything better to do.
Doing your Algebra in English class.
Thinking of Friday night.
Thinking of Saturday.
    . . . stepping stones to graduation

Education is an abstraction, as impossible to define as 'God' or 'country.' After four years of it at Sentinel, I cannot say what education is; I can, however, say what it is not. It is not mimeographed hand-outs, nor prepared 'packets.' It is not textbooks, nor is it even teachers. To know what education is you have to want it enough, and to get education you have to be willing to do it yourself. In all the classes I've been in, I have never learned unless I wanted to. So, after four years of it, I can only say this: you can not get education through a passive reception of it from teachers and all their paraphernalia, the effort has to come from yourself.

Service

Service is learning what it is like to get your hands dirty. It's planning and executing a marathon basketball game, and then looking at your feet afterwards. It's selling tickets and pop for your organization's dance; it's then selling tickets and pop at other dances just because you are experienced. It's being able to be called a "jock." It's working on an ecology trail, and it's changing the schedule boards and the marquee. Service is saying that you thought it was all worthwhile—after you have finally finished a project.

Fine Arts. Organizations

Organizations are . . .
the efforts of a few for the many.
cooperation, even when you voted the other way.
giving all your nights and weekends until you're finished.
basking in group success.
waiting until 3:15 to go home when your classes are out at 2:08.
selling anything door-to-door.
skits at assemblies.
long bus trips.
effort becoming accomplishment.
. . . the life of the place!

Honors

Honors in high school is something you may or may not care for during your four years of high school. High School is a chance to get a look at yourself, and to find out what field you would like to go in to, and what your interest in life may be. If you want to do something in life really bad, these honors help you strive even harder and stronger than you might have. If honor is your thing to look for in high school, then strive and work for that honor and you will find a better and more satisfied person within yourself.

Mike McKenzie

Girls State

Girls State was founded in 1938 to educate high school girls about the workings of state and local government. Last spring six Sentinel Juniors attended the sessions in Helena. The girls spent the week drawing up party platforms, campaigning, listening to speeches on topics from drivers' safety to patriotism, singing at firesides, attending church daily, and shopping. They also heard gubernatorial candidates Tom Judge and Ed Smith.

Cindy Johnson served as State Treasurer and Susan Barmeyer was Public Service Commissioner at Girls State last spring.

Boys State

Boys State, founded in 1935 by the American Legion, is a week long session held each year in Dillon. Junior boys from throughout the state learn about area politics through participation in mock governments. For the seven Sentinel boys the week included hard campaigning, good food, lectures on law enforcement and the legislative process, and two hours of sports a day. The boys also listened to Representative Dick Shoup, Tom Judge, and Ed Smith.

National Honor Society

The virtues of Character, Leadership, Scholarship, and Service are the basis for selection into the National Honor Society. The society was founded in 1921 by Edward Ryneasian and the Sentinel group was the thirteenth to be chartered. The advisors are Loren Johnson and Monte Brekke. To qualify, Juniors must have at least a 3.5 grade point and have the top endorsement by their teachers. Seniors having a 3.0 are also considered. Character, Leadership, and Service are each worth 20% of the evaluation and Scholarship accounts for the other 40%.

JORGE PFLEGER

Jorge Pfleger came to Missoula from Argentina in the middle of August. To get here he had to take three tests and fill out two applications, answering hundreds of questions about himself, his family, and the United States.

Although he had many misgivings about attending an American capitalistic and imperialistic school, his worries were not justified. He adjusted to Sentinel quickly, meeting many friendly teachers and students. His first friends in Missoula were the Ponds, whom he stayed with while going to Sentinel. The Ponds, Jorge said, are "excellent people."

During his stay in Missoula, Jorge was actively involved in Key Club, Spanish Club, and the Montana History Club. He also lost his voice at school games, went to dances, and served as vice president of a church group.

Looking back at his year at Sentinel, Jorge said, "I thank you all very much for all that you have done for me. I want to go back to my country of course, but it gives me great pain to leave this school and it was a great honor to be a Spartan."

Tom Anderson takes notes on Jorge's story about life in Argentina.

Jorge quenches his thirst with a coke at one of the local drive-ins.

AFS student Suzy Kappes points out where she spent ten weeks last summer.

Students in an English III-IV class ask Suzy questions about her stay in Malaysia.

Suzy models her daytime Malaysian outfit.

SUZY KAPPES

Suzy Kappes spent ten weeks last summer in the town of Klang in Malaysia as an AFS student. She was apprehensive at first about living there but found that life in Malaysia was very interesting.

Social customs, she found, were very different, as people do not start dating until they are about twenty years old. School life was also strange to Suzy because students there must wear uniforms and attend nine classes. They spend each period taking lecture notes.

Suzy said that although Malaysia is a democracy, freedom of speech is often limited. Long hair is banned and many books cannot be sold. Dresses there are longer and no one wears shorts.

Suzy added that although she was homesick at first, she could have stayed another month easily. "It was hard to leave, but it was really, really nice to get back home."

Cynthia Paul was chosen as a member of Quill and Scroll because of her dedication as editor of the KONAH and because of her efforts on KOPEE.

Quill and Scroll is an international society for high school journalists. Membership is based on individual accomplishments in the fields of writing, editing, or business management. Students on the Bitterroot, Konah, and Kopee staffs are appointed to the society by their advisors.

Although Susie Stephenson, Quill and Scroll member, devotes much of her time to working on KOPEE and editing the BITTERROOT, she finds time to enjoy sculpturing.

Quill and Scroll

Shelley Peterson was rewarded for her work on BITTERROOT and KOPEE by being appointed to Quill and Scroll.

1972

Bitterroot Staff

The 1972 Bitterroot won Columbia University's Medalist Award for high school yearbooks. The book was judged on the basis of its development of a theme and on its coverage of major school activities. Production of the book was supervised by Sherman Lahn and Diana Lamb, co-editors, and by Lynne Blumberg, advisor. The 1972 Bitterroot, which scored 972 of 1000 possible points, was one of less than 10 percent of the first place winners in the nation to be awarded the Medalist rating.

Andrew Joron, one of two students from Montana who received a certificate as a winner in the National Council of Teachers of English achievement program, was also selected as a member for Quill and Scroll. He is editor of the KOPEE and assistant editor of the KONAH and was chosen for his outstanding ability in creative writing.

Kirk Rocheleau

Kirk Rocheleau was named All-American guard by the Scouting Systems of America for his performance in the 1971-1972 basketball season. He was one of three Montana players chosen.

Bruce McRae puts the finishing touches on one of his Craft projects.

Bruce McRae

Bruce McRae played trombone in the Macy Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York and the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena. He was one of two high school students from Montana selected to play in the 1972 McDonald's All-American Band.

National Merit Semi-Finalists

The National Merit Test, which was combined last year with the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, is the basis for awarding Merit Scholarships. These scholarships include state-allocated funds and grants sponsored by individual donors to educational institutions.

Last year less than 15,000 of the 1,000,000 students taking the test qualified for rank of Semi-Finalist. Ninety-six percent of the Semi-Finalists become Finalists and are then eligible for Merit Scholarships. Tom Corrick and Robert Lumby achieved the rank of Semi-Finalist from Sentinel.

LETTERS OF COMMENDATION

Letters of Commendation are awarded to those who did not qualify as Semi-Finalists but indicate "unusual promise." Receiving Letters of Commendation were Tom Anderson, Sue Barmeyer, Sarah Ellison, John Lamont, Will Roscoe, Chuck Williams, and Mark Zacek.

All-State Football

The Montana Coaches Association nominated four members of Sentinel's 1972 championship football team to first team All-State offense and three to first team defense. Chosen on offense were Bryan Flraig, Steve Hamilton, Tim Kerr, and Stan Zachariasen. Bob Vogel, Steve Yurich, and Stan Zachariasen were named to defense.

George Schweitzer and Charlotte Ranberg pose as Elk's leaders.

Elk's Leadership

Charlotte Ranberg and George Schweitzer won first place in the local Elk's Leadership Contests. George also took first in state competition. Charlotte placed fifth in state. They were chosen for their leadership in church, school, and community activities.

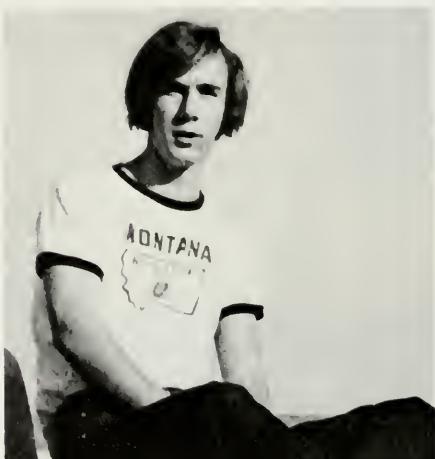

Left to Right: Bryan Flairg, Steve Yurich, Bob Vogel, Stan Zachariasen, Steve Hamilton, Tim Kerr.

Charlotte and George take time off from school activities to shoot a game of 8-ball.

Outstanding Teenagers

The Sentinel administration chose five seniors as Outstanding Teenagers this year. They were voted on by the counselors and administration on the basis of their activities and leadership in the school.

The Men's Liberation movement took hold this year at Sentinel as Will Roscoe won Sentinel's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow contest. This was the first year the contest, sponsored by General Mills, was open to boys.

Susan Barmeyer displays her trait of dependability by making Kopee signs and seeing that they are put up. Susan, judged on her citizenship, dependability, leadership, patriotism, and service, received the D.A.R. Good Citizenship award for Sentinel High School.

Students Honored

Chosen from 2000 students on the basis of performance in taped auditions, nine Sentinel musicians were selected to play for the Northwest Music Educators' Conference in Portland, Oregon.

Academics

Teaching and Counseling are . . .
Caring when no one else seems to.
Listening to the words but more important,
being aware of the unexpressed feelings.
Being a friend—a real friend, one who shares, is honest and sincere.
Not sitting in judgment.
Not forcing morals and values and yet being concerned about them.
Watching a young person grow and develop.
Watching him set positive goals and then achieve them.
Seeing him tackle his problems with determination to make himself a better person.
Knowing that in some way, however minor,
you have been part of it.
That helpless feeling.
Knowing that being a friend and caring aren't enough but not knowing what is.
Not being able to change an impossible situation.
Watching a young man or woman give up and resign themselves to a life of unhappiness.
The possibility that you may have some positive influence on just one troubled individual.
Reaching their goal when words are said like: "Thanks, I really appreciate you."

Rod Bates
Counselor

The Bell Rings—

After a grueling 9 months faculty members and administrators at Sentinel High School "take three" (months, that is) to recuperate and to prepare for the new year. Some float Montana's rivers, backpack into wilderness areas, relax in Germany, Spain, or Mexico, and some attend classes at the University of Montana, while others tend to less spectacular chores, working in their yards and homes.

—The bell rings again.

(Athletics) The grass grows thick while Monte Brekke adjusts his ailing machine. Mr. Brekke teaches Slide Rule, Consumer Math, College Prep, and Geometry. (National Honor Society, Scholarships) Shirley Wasinger, General Math, Geometry and Algebra I, puts the finishing touches on a dress. (Junior Class) Algebra I, Geometry, and General Math teacher Virginia Speck threads her weaving loom. (Math Department Chairman, "S" Club) Loren Johnson, Algebra IX and II and Geometry, searches for his daughter's ring in the leaves. (National Honor Society) General Math and Algebra I and IX instructor Don Rider reinforces the wall of his garden. (Athletics, "M" Club)

Science Drivers Education

Biology teacher James Cusker poses with one of his cows. (Science Department Chairman, Science Research Society, Scholarships) Lyle Leischner, Earth Science, relaxes with his horse. (Time Limited) Is Mr. Ron Perrin, Earth Science, building a play pen or a rabbit cage? (Time Limited) Drivers Education instructor Charles Walles cuddles his children. (Athletics) Ron Wheeler teaches his students about the birds and the bees in his Biology I-II classes. (Junior Class) Don Berg contemplates the environment as a hungry pup looks on. (Time Limited, Science Research) Hyrum Tatton, Chemistry, skillfully handles his line to catch his limit. (Science Research) Bob Luoma, Drivers Education, admires his many basketball trophies. ("M" Club, Athletics) Dick Dill, Biology and Chemistry, creates wonderful works of wood with his saw. (Prom Co-Chairman) Ron Laughlin, Physics, weighs Ron Bates's fish caught on a river float down Rock Creek. (Senior Class General Chairman, Science Research) Drivers Education instructor Tom Thorpe prepares to mow his lawn.

Special Education Social Studies

Sociology, American History, and World History teacher Hal Stearns admires a Porsche. (Junior Historians, Key Club) Nancy Walter, Journalism and American History teacher, picks an apple from the tree of knowledge. (Kondu, Quill and Scroll, KONA) American History and Geography teacher Gary Ekegren relaxes with his dog. (Athletics) Bill Bradford, Government teacher, tastes fresh peas from his garden. (Social Studies Department Chairman, Youth In Government) Mike Cooper, World Geography, Anthropology, Urban Ecology, gets a first hand view of Montana's geography on his bike. (Model UN, AFS) Seumas Gallagher, Montana and American History, milks a cow. (Junior Historians) Coach Gene Leonard, Contemporary Problems and Government, keeps up on urban affairs. ("M" Club, Athletics) Russian and American History teacher, Rose Hart, sews herself a dress. (AFS Scholarships) Special Education teachers, Larry Allen and Ed LaCasse, (Athletics) give a toast to Montana's dairy men.

Physical Education

Coach Jug Beck, Health and PE, spends many summer hours in ice parlors. ("M" Club, Athletics) Health and PE teacher Betty Faurot shows her Dachshund how weeds grow. (Sparkettes, Orchesis) Keeping in shape for the gymnastics season is Pam Burgess, Health and PE. (Athletics, GRA) Coach Mike Johnson, Health and PE, back packs near Boulder Lake. (Athletics) Health and PE teacher Coy Wallermire waits her turn to slam one over the fence. (Athletics, GRA) Coach Jack McWhorter, Health and PE, is a convert to motorcycling. (Athletics)

Business Education

Laura Pahl, Typing teacher, dreams of snow to ski on. (Prom Co-Chairman) Typing and Shorthand teacher Linda O'Hare returns a serve. ("S" Club) Dick Schipporeit, Typing and Record Keeping, thinks young. (Intramurals) Karen Printz, Shorthand and Co-op Office instructor, shows off her vacuum. (Business Education Department Chairman, OFEA) Bookkeeping and Typing teacher Georgia Gladis catches a fly ball. (Cheerleader Advisor)

Staff

Members of the cooking staff, Mary Anderson, Lillian Johnson, Rita Gruhn, Kathryn Staiger and June Reed perform their daily routines. Eva Seitz and John Seitz sneak a quiet moment together on the steps. The janitorial staff, (front row) Duane Tintzman, Paul Deines, Ben Smith, (second row) Ed Galarus, Art Lutz, Lester Stout and Lew Stimson pose by the gym entrance. Sam Davis scrubs a sink while John Watters ribs Principal Joe Roberts.

Librarian Tish Johnson eyes a new atlas. Staff members, Lucille Smith, Hope Campbell, Bertha Manning, Rosemarie Fishburn, Alvera Valach and Patty Nord gossip by the "jock bench". Nurse Ruth Howell weighs a young girl. The visual aid staff, Harold Smith, Millie Whitman and John MacDonald, assist students in making their learning experiences more enjoyable. Solveig Waters checks information for Principal Joe Roberts.

Industrial

Education

Mike Cavey, Forestry and Vo-Ag, checks a camera lens before popping a picture. (FFA) Mark Langunet, Drafting and Natural Resources, studies his homework for a college computer course. (Prom Committee) Welding and Electricity teacher Leland Miller works with intricate electrical equipment. (Prom Committee) Lou Taberna labors with a car part in his Auto-Mech class. Welding and Metals teacher Dean Martin spends some leisurely time in his garden. (Prom Committee) James Lizotte, Small Engines, repairs his cycle. Knapp, Forestry and Co-op, surveys his ranch. Mark Bryn works in his Metals classroom. Auto-Mech teacher Gene Hall rolls a fresh coat of paint on a splotchy wall.

Industrial Education

Welding instructor Thomas Wilburn sets the engine to start his cycle. "Help," Jim Krause, Applied Biology, Natural Resources, Woods, says, "Bale me out of here!" (FFA) Robert Samardich, Introduction to Career Education, makes a fast get-away on a "borrowed bike". (Key Club, Athletics) Don Hendrikson, Woods, tinkers with an old gramophone. (Department Chairman, Prom Committee) Bill Martin, Introduction to Career Education, starts out on a hunting trip. (Prom Committee)

Faculty Life

Florence Brunton, Gayle Carlisle and Shirlee Wasinger gab in the Home Living Center. Margaret Johnson spreads her uproarious cheer. When Alvera Valach and Richard Schipporeit entertained at a pep assembly, Mrs. Valach became Sentinel's personal cream puff. Chemistry teacher Hyrum Tatten may know his electrons form his neutrons, but he has trouble winning chess games. Erwin Byrnes excites the student body in a class cheer.

Ed.
 I don't know why I'm writing this book since I've already put it at school. I just hope you can find someone to run around with. That will help you out of trouble. Sorry I can't help you out with that guy is. Hey and stop running out into that guy if you can. I know it's hard to come and see me. We have been closed by our friend and seeing closed any help come and get me and tell. Only if their next (HHA) Also, there's always a good time or Riverine neighborhood that's good too. Well good luck this summer and you good (HHA). Just so,
 Deb

In Memoriam

Jodie Koski
Linda Breuer
Sandy Haugh

With water and soap, time and lost hope, my feelings become faint, smudged and remote. When at last they are gone, all that is left are remnants of white paint, grease and new dread.
(Cindy Clark)

'At last the law of the mask was removed.
But the people had forgotten how it was to express themselves with their faces. They made their own masks to wear then, for they felt naked and frightened of their bare faces.' We can see the beauty of the free, uninhibited face, twisting naturally and easily into a smile, a look of affection, frown of disappointment, joy of victory, pain of defeat and the bright look to the future. With these expressions, the highlights of the 1973 school year have been recorded.

Sayle is a really sweet girl who was in my gym class. Good Luck with all your classes.

LIFE IS A BEAUTIFUL GARDEN
MADE OF OUR DAYS AND YEAR
IT ALWAYS IS GROWING AND CHANGING
AS EVERY NEW SEASON APPEARS AND SO IN THIS BEAUTIFUL GARDEN
BRIGHTENED BY SUNSHINE ABOVE
MAY YOU TRAVEL THE YEARS AND GATHER
ITS BLOSSOMS OF JOY AND LOVE
